Cyber Security Offerings

Vulnerability Management

We identify, evaluate, treat and report on security vulnerabilities in systems and the software that runs on them. We implement this as it is vital for us to help organisations to prioritize possible threats and minimizing their "attack surface."

Network Security Configuration

We assist organisations by implementing security measures when building and installing computers and network devices in order to reduce unnecessary cyber vulnerabilities. Security misconfigurations are one of the most common gaps that criminal hackers look to exploit.

Encryption and hardening mobile devices

Penetration Testing

We test computer systems, networks or web applications to find vulnerabilities that an attacker could exploit, this is done by means of simulating an attack against an organization's IT assets focussing on the scope provided to us.

Network Monitoring

We implement a system that constantly monitors a computer network for slow or failing components and that notifies the network administrator in case of outages or other trouble.

Cyber Security Awareness Training

We help Organizations educate employees to understand risks and identify potential attacks they may encounter that could harm the organisation. We ensure the necessary knowledge from the training also acquaints employees with best practices for avoiding risk.

Incident Response

We ensure the effort to quickly identify an attack, minimize its effects, contain damage, and remediate the cause to reduce the risk of future incidents.

We encrypt and harden mobile devices to ensure that data is secure.

MANA GEMENT

MG Executive Protection Services is a proudly South African security company established by two former Military Operatives with a background of VIP Protection, security, intelligence, training, sales and marketing experience.
